11. In the case of Services and any Goods made to your special requirements, it is your responsibility to ensure that any information or specification you provide is accurate.
12. All Services are subject to availability.
13. We can make changes to the Services which are necessary to comply with any applicable law or safety requirement. We will notify you of these changes.
14. Earwax removal via micro suction is considered more effective than other methods such as syringing. However, alternative methods such as probe removal eg. use of a Jobson Horne tool, or gentle irrigation eg. use of a spraywash tool, may be undertaken if considered to be more appropriate by the clinician.
15. Incidents during ear wax removal are uncommon, especially with micro-suction. However, possible minor risks that can occur and are deemed to be acceptable include: small nicks to the ear canal which can result in minor bleeding, soreness, mild discomfort and short-term ringing in the ear (tinnitus).

16. More serious risk to the ear or eardrum can occur if the client cannot remain adequately still during the procedure. Clients should inform the clinician of any likely movements.
17. Very severely impacted wax may result in incomplete removal of ear wax requiring a return visit. Return visits may also be required for clients who require extra care, such as children who display sensitivity to the procedure or clients with complicated medical / health requirements.
18. To keep the risk of infection to a minimum, all equipment used in the ear is sterilised or single-use. However, there is always a risk that infection may occur once out of the practitioner's care, for which we cannot be held responsible. Please consult your GP as soon as possible should you experience any discomfort or worrying symptoms post procedure.
19. The CE marked suction unit is designed to remove fluids from the airway or respiratory support system and infectious materials from wounds. It has been adapted for the use of aural micro-suction.

Basis of Sale

20. The description of the Services and any Goods in our website, catalogues, brochures or other form of advertisement does not constitute a contractual offer to sell the Services or Goods.
21. When an Order has been made, we can reject it for any reason, although we will try to tell you the reason without delay.
22. A Contract will be formed for the Services ordered, only upon the Supplier sending an email to the Customer saying that the Order has been accepted or, if earlier, the Supplier's delivery of the Services to the Customer.
23. Any quotation or estimate of Fees (as defined below) is valid for a maximum period of 1 day from its date, unless we expressly withdraw it at an earlier time.
24. No variation of the Contract, whether about description of the Services, Fees or otherwise, can be made after it has been entered into unless the variation is agreed by the Customer and the Supplier in writing.
